

CHAPMAN
UNIVERSITY

WILKINSON COLLEGE OF
HUMANITIES AND SOCIAL SCIENCES

ONE UNIVERSITY DRIVE
ORANGE, CALIFORNIA 92866
WWW.CHAPMAN.EDU/WILKINSON

(714) 997-6947 • Fax: (714) 997-6579

Marshutz Endowed Journalism Award

Each academic year, the Marshutz Endowed Journalism Award, Wilkinson College of Humanities and Social Sciences, will select a student majoring in English with a journalism emphasis or journalism minor who displays a growing talent and the potential to succeed in the course of study.

For talent award eligibility, complete and submit this application by March 7, 2014 at noon to be considered for the Spring Semester.

Name: _____

Major/s and Minor/s: _____

Permanent Address: _____

University Address: _____

Email address: _____

Tel (mobile): _____

[] Check this box, if you are receiving financial aid.

To be considered for this award, please attach the following:

*A one-page cover letter explaining how the award will help you achieve your career goals. (Please use AP Style, if you know it.)

*Five copies of your published work. Published work must include your byline, the title of the outlet and date of publication. If you do not have any published work, but have submitted a story for publication, attach a printed copy of the story and indicate when and where it will be published.

*A one-page resume focusing on your media work.

Submit your application no later than March 7, 2014 at noon to: Marshutz Journalism Award Selection Committee c/o Joanna Levin, Department English Chair, Wilkinson Hall 217 or email the completed application with attachments to jlevin@chapman.edu.

Incomplete applications will not be considered.

For more information, contact Joanna Levin at 714.997-6534 or email: jlevin@chapman.edu.