

Internships and paid campaign positions available for Southbay area campaign

Hiring for evening and weekend work this summer through the November election.

Are you interested in politics, government, and public policy? Interested in helping California residents, businesses, and protecting property owners? Would you like to see balance and common sense brought to Sacramento and the California lawmaking process? Are you looking to expand your resume and work on a highly competitive, targeted California race in an unpredictable election year?

This campaign is looking for motivated and interested individuals to help us win this November! If you enjoy long walks in neighborhoods along the beach, meeting new people, and a challenge, then we have the position for you. Work hand-in-hand with an active political campaign, meet and work along side the candidate, and help make a lasting impression in the community you live in.

Responsibilities include, but are not limited to:

- Door-to-door canvassing
- Voter outreach
- Event staffing
- Communicating with the public
- Representing the candidate in face-to-face interactions
- Phone banking for those who prefer an office setting

Preferred qualifications:

- Good communication Skills
- Ability to learn and retain information about candidates' views, current local issues, and public policy
- You enjoy meeting and talking to new people
- You can work with and maintain confidential information
- Semi-professional attire
- You have access to a reliable form of transportation
- You have a clean background check

No previous campaign experience is required. Looking for intelligent, professional, and consistent self-driven people. This is a short-term and temporary position that is perfect for college students, parents with school-aged children, or those looking for a flexible second source of income. Make your own schedule, work is primarily performed in the afternoons/evenings and on weekends. Pay is very competitive, we offer a great work environment with a lot of opportunities to learn.

The position is in Torrance and the surrounding cities. If you can commit at least 2 days a week until November, we have paid positions available as Canvassers or Phone bankers. If you only have one day or a few hours per week, our Campaign office would love to consider you as an intern. Please email your Resume, availability, preferred position to the craigslist relay above. Thank you.
